For Parents: Medical Emergencies at School

Find out how your school responds to children's medical emergencies by asking these questions:

- What are the procedures to be followed when a medical emergency occurs in a classroom or on the school campus?
- Who is responsible for implementing these procedures?
- What training in medical emergency procedures have been made available to school staff and how many have received training?
- Are the staff that are trained to respond available at the school full-time?
- Are older students informed of medical emergency procedures?
- How can parents support implementation of effective medical emergency procedures at school?
